One Vegetable, One Community 2020, #TakeItOutside

Take it Outside this Spring for mental and physical well-being and join One Vegetable, One Community (OVOC) in gardening and planting the vegetable of the year in Polk County, the garden beet! As a growing county-wide initiative, the fifth year of OVOC encourages all communities to participate in the mission to increase access to healthy foods, grow excitement about gardening, enhance community, and regain control during this unprecedented pandemic. Due to COVID-19, OVOC may look a little different, but the mission remains strong and more important than ever. Social distancing, proper handwashing and respiratory etiquette remain crucially important and so does our mental and physical health. Gardening and getting outside can be great for both mental and physical well-being. Let's stay "up-beet", take it outside, and plant, grow, cook and share together as community. Taking time for yourself can't be 'beet'; spend time in nature, take deep breaths, and be gentle with yourself and others during these times.

Throughout county communities, free seeds can be picked up at various locations including grocery stores, free pantries/libraries and other identified locations. Those who participate can share what they are doing with their garden beets through Kirsten Fagerlund, and Meghan Palubicki, The Red Poppy.

I'm Sorry, what did you say?

More than 21 million Americans suffer from hearing impairment. Hearing loss is defined as any alteration of hearing capacity. According to the UCSF Health Medical Specialists, hearing loss can be of various degrees from mild, moderate, severe, profound, or total. Hearing loss can be classified as four different types: conductive, sensorineural, central and mixed hearing loss. Conductive hearing loss can be characterized by the loss of sound conduction to the inner ear (cochlea). It can result from a blockage of wax, a punctured eardrum, birth defects, ear infections, or heredity. It can be either temporary or permanent, but many times treated with medication or surgery. Nerve" or sensorineural hearing loss involves damage to the inner ear. It can be caused by aging, birth-related complications, viral or bacterial infections, heredity, trauma, exposure to loud noises, the use of certain drugs, fluid buildup, or a benign tumor in the inner ear. This is usually permanent loss of hearing sensitivity, often more in the high frequencies or pitches than the lower. Sensorineural hearing loss usually affects the ability to understand conversations, especially in difficult listening situations. Sensorineural hearing loss usually affects men more than women, due to job placement and social activities rather than genetic makeup. This kind of hearing loss can successfully be treated with hearing aids. People who have central hearing find it difficult to understand and comprehend conversations when there is background noise. Mixed hearing loss is any combination of the above types of hearing loss. WebMD defines a hearing aid is an electronic device that picks up sound waves with a tiny microphone. The microphone makes weaker sounds louder and sends them to the ear through a tiny speaker. Because a hearing aid is an amplification device, a person must have some hearing to benefit from its use. In addition, because hearing loss has a variety of patterns and degrees of severity and affects people in different ways, no single hearing aid is right for everyone. Research at the Mayo Clinic has found that hearing loss can have a significant effect on your quality of life. Older adults with hearing loss report feelings of depression. Because hearing loss can make conversation difficult, some people experience feelings of isolation. Hearing loss is also associated with cognitive impairment and decline. The Food and Drug Administration recommends that you have your ears examined by a licensed physician. This will ensure there are no underlying diseases or medical problems causing hearing loss. Hearing loss may be a symptom of another medical problem that needs a doctor's attention. Have your hearing tested to assess your ability to hear with and without a hearing aid. This will enable your hearing professional to select and fit a hearing aid to your individual needs.

Many manufacturers and hearing specialists recommend that consumers be given at least a 30-day trial period with only a small service fee if the consumer returns the product. A trial period is a strong protection for such an important purchase, so be sure to ask before you buy. Theology in the Trenches Borderline Mish-Mash

By Kathleen Kjolhaug
Her husband has cows. About a hundred head...has he. But that's not all, you see. He has six kids all grown and gone, seven grands, a company to generally manage, committees in church to commit to, and three more grands on the way. Oh, did I mention he has a wife too? Yes, this is she. Upon his shoulders he does carry anything that does not tarry. Ordering feed, fixing waterlines, rescheduling the schedules of many, and showing up if others do not. Urgent some might call it, but he calls it his job. His wife does tarry and while she did one day, she spent her time looking out over the area where the cattle come drink. It was all beneath the window through which she peered and for some odd reason, for the first time ever, she noted the fence line in crooked accordance just below her. Untidy, is what she thought about the metal gates leaning against wooden rails holding that which was within. Could that be called withholding as she was beholding to that thought eking out all curious like? She thought that indeed it could be as withholding they were the cattle within, cause that fence line kept them in all border like. Patrolling she was this early morn with nothing much to do but ponder anew what her husband should do. Taking a pounding those posts out yonder had...much like her husband's shoulders who'd pounded them first hand. Deep they went...much like he. Quiet and solid...much like he. Holding-fast...much like he. Truth is...the whole eclectic mish-mash was doing its job just fine. Although she liked order, she did not like the work it took to make it so. So, the only thing she could do was to order him around to fix the whole lot of it. Why can't he just make it all neat-like, she thought as she perched while doing her chirping within.

But soon, tenderness crept in as she confessed her sins which focused on her demanding rather than candidly taking such thoughts captive. He has made this beautiful fence line of border to keep within that which otherwise might be a danger of getting out. No need of perfection as only He is perfect came the thought as she was reminded of her own borders looking selfishly shaky. You see, she treasured him as one with her but as so many others do, she had not given voice to that as of late. And so she chose, before evening fell, to do just that. Appreciation goes far in the heart of man. "I appreciate you," she spoke when he came through the door. He smiled. Contentment seeped in as words spoken from Prov. 22:28 stood watch at the border of her heart. "Do not move the ancient boundary which your fathers have set." Amen.

Winger Tractor Ride

By Auctioneer Eric W. Mickelson
This summer I was looking forward to going to Rollag to Steam School...cancelled! I am a county fair lover.....cancelled! The State Fair, WMSTR in Rollag you get my drift! My wife's family also has an August family reunion in Iowa and I found a couple of Museums to visit when we go....will they be open to the public??? Seeing tractors may be harder to do this summer than usual.

But facebook sent me a fun surprise. I got word there was going to be a tractor ride leaving Winger and making a 12 mile loop around the countryside and finishing back in Winger. Unfortunately I didn't have any tractors ready to embark on such a journey but, I thought I will go and get a few pictures. So I was off to Winger and low and behold I received a phone call from a friend of mine, David Sall, asking me if I would like to drive a G John Deere in the parade.....well those of you who read my article or know me know it didn't take me long to answer, "YES!!" So instead of just taking pictures I jumped on David's G John Deere and waited at the end of the driveway for the parade starters from Winger to come by so I could jump in line. G John Deere tractors are one of my favorites and I have driven many Gs in my life but this G is probably the nicest running G I have had the privilege to drive. Leading the parade was an H Famall and there were John Deeres, Fords, and an Allis Chalmers WC.

What a great way to spend Sunday! We completed our loop and stopped in Winger lining up the tractors. I then had a chance to take a few pictures and run down the drivers of a couple other Gs on the tractor ride. Tom Vesledahl was driving a 1950 G with a wide front and his cousin Paul was driving a 1948 G with a narrow front. The "caboose" of the parade was David Sall on his unstyled G on steel, with road bands, pulling a manure spreader. I believe there were about 16 participants. Again I have to say thank you to those responsible for the tractor ride. It was a ray of sunshine on a cloudy day for us tractor lovers. Thanks to David Sall for letting me drive that G and thanks to all who participated.....especially all the Gs!

How about a little Tractor Trivia!

1. The model G John Deere was produced from 1937 - _____.
A) 1953 B) 1950 C) 1947 D) 1945
2. From 1942-1947 the G model designation was changed to the model _____.
A) Super G B) GM C) 60 D) GS

3. Why did they change the model designation?
4. What tractor replaced the model G?
A) 50 B) 60 C) 70 D) 80
5. What was the bore of the cylinders in a model G engine. (The stroke is 7 in.)
A) 5 ½" B) 6" C) 6 ¼" D) 6 ½"

Answers: 1. A. 1953 2. B. GM 3. They needed a new model designation to get a price increase during WW II. 4. C. 70 5. C. 6 ¼"

The Polk County Museum in Crookston will open for the season on Tuesday, June 16

Regular museum hours are Tuesday through Saturday from noon to 4 p.m. and Sundays by appointment. Admission is free and everyone is welcome. Many of the displays have been updated or revised. The main entrance has been completely refurbished and now has a mural of Polk County with historic sites and events highlighted. "People will be surprised at the many changes in the museum. If someone hasn't been in it lately or if they've never visited the museum, this summer is a great time for them to get acquainted with the colorful history of our county," said Polk County Historical Society President Anne Muir of Crookston. The Historical Society operates the museum as part of its mission to collect, preserve, promote and communicate the history of Polk County.

Obituary for Verna M. Erickson
Verna M. Erickson, age 84, of Gonvick, MN, died on May 30, 2020, at the Cornerstone Care Facility in Bagley, MN. A memorial service will be held at 11:00 a.m. on Friday, June 5th, at Elim Lutheran Brethren Cemetery, rural Clearbrook, MN, with Adam Krog and Ron Erickson officiating. All are welcome to attend and bring your own lawn chair. Messages of condolence may be shared at www.carlinfuneral.com.
She was born on January

8, 1936, at her Grandmother Johanna's home in Rail Prairie Township, MN, the daughter of Helen Marie (Anderson) Pilon and Delbert Pilon.

As a child, she lived a few years in Crosby and Duluth, but spent most of her childhood in Pillager, MN. She graduated from the Pillager High School in 1954. She loved to sing and used her beautiful alto voice in the school's many ensembles. After graduating from high school, she worked at the Midway Hospital in St Paul, where she met and fell in love with her husband, Ordean Erickson. They married on October 12, 1957, in Pillager, and spent most of their married life on the family farm in Gonvick.

Having Jesus as her Lord and Savior meant everything to her and she made sure everyone around her knew it. She prayed daily for her immediate family, extended family and friends. She sang in church, taught Sunday School and participated in Mission Friends. She was an excellent cook and loved to entertain and serve others.

In addition to her parents, she was predeceased by her grandson, Silas Erickson and nephew, Michael Bingman.

Surviving in addition to her husband, Ordean, is her daughter, Rhonda of Gonvick; sons, Randy and his wife, Ree, of Rochester; Richard and his wife, Janet, of Osakis; and Ron and his wife, Barb, of Williston, ND; eight grandchildren, Ann, Jennifer, Timothy and his wife Sarah, Torii, Isaac and his wife, Addy, Josiah, Ruthanne and her fiancé Hans Holzner and Collin; two great-grandchildren, David and Lenora; one sister, Mardell Bingman and her husband, Murray; one brother-in-law, Harvey Erickson and his wife, Sandra; two nieces, two nephews and many cousins.

Thanks to everyone for their prayers, encouragement and support through this difficult time.

A very fitting end to her life existed in the lines of her favorite hymn, "Victory in Jesus": O victory, in Jesus, my Savior, forever. He sought me and bought me with His redeeming blood. He loved me ere I knew Him and all my love is due Him. He plunged me to victory, beneath the cleansing flood.
Blessed be her memory.

Obituary for Duane T. Erickson
Duane T. Erickson, age 83, of Detroit Lakes, MN and formerly a longtime resident of Hibbing, died Saturday, May 23, 2020, at Ecumen in Detroit Lakes. He was born June 26, 1936, in Clearbrook, MN the son of Theodore and Pearl (Hanson) Erickson. He was a graduate of Clearbrook High School, Moorhead State University and Bemidji State University where he earned his Master's Degree. He was united in marriage to Irene L. Solsten on April 12, 1958, in Fosston, MN.

Duane was the Director of Financial Aid and Counseling at Hibbing Community College. He was a Social Studies and PE teacher, coached basketball, football, wrestling, and track, and was a referee and multiple sports official. He was a member of Our Savior's Lutheran Church in Hibbing where he was a past president of the congregation and coordinator of the White Elephant Sale. He was later a member of the Ecumen Emanuel Chapel. In Hibbing he served on the Hospital advisory board, and was a member of the Sons of Norway Midnatsolen Lodge #058, and the state and regional financial aid and counseling association. He served his community well, was a strong leader and was an excellent keynote speaker with a witty sense of humor. He was well known for his kind, quite, caring demeanor; and his hard work ethic and character. He helped many students throughout his career, but no one more than his own family, children, and grandchildren. He was always willing to listen with a care and concern. That was usually followed by valuable advice, but only if you asked for it. He loved spending time with family, attending his children's and grandchildren's activities and sports events, and socializing with friends. He enjoyed church, sports, fishing & boating, dancing and playing cards. He loved hosting family and friends at his home on Island Lake with his wife, Irene. They thoroughly enjoyed lake life.

Duane is survived by his daughters: Tracy (Phil) Delich of Eveleth, MN, Terry Erickson of Superior, WI, and Lisa (Paul) Weber of Detroit Lakes, MN; his son: Ted (Taunya) Erickson of Buhl, MN; siblings: Joanne (Bill) Halan of Lake Zurich, IL, Durwood (Shirley) Erickson of Thief River Falls, MN, and Darris (Paulette) Erickson of Coon Rapids, MN; five grandchildren; Nicole (Frank) Panzer, Ben (Amanda) Delich, Kristoffer Peterson, , Josie Delich (Carl) Babich, Austin (Zoe) Weber; four great-grandchildren; Charlie Panzer, Crystal Babich, Nora Delich, and Jordyn Panzer; and many friends.

The family would like to extend a special thank you to the Ecumen staff of Detroit Lakes and Hospice of the Red River Valley for their compassion and excellent care.

He was preceded in death by his parents: Theodore and Pearl Erickson; parents-in-law: Otto and Ruby Solsten; wife: Irene; brothers: Dennis and Douglas Erickson; sisters: Marilyn Bonnet, Shirley Lagerstrom, baby Erickson, Sharon Erickson, and Cheryl Pliska; and sister-in-law: Katherine Caskey.

A private service will be held on Friday, June 5, 2020 for immediate family only. The family plans to have a public Celebration of Life service at a later date with extended family and friends when it is safe and allowed.

Private family services are provided by Anderson-Daniels, a Bauman Family Funeral Home, in Hibbing. To express condolences online please see: www.baumanfuneralhome.com. Cards can be sent to Duane Erickson Family c/o Lisa Weber 1223 Riverside Drive, Detroit Lakes, MN 56501.
