The Looming Crisis in Snowmobiling

By Mike Hughes, Region 2 Director (Itasca County) Minnesota United Snowmobilers Association)

Submitted by Sharon Dyrdaahl O'Bryan

Snowmobiling is a relatively new form of winter recreation. It's only been around as a popular diversion from the angst of winter for about forty years. Prior to that, the silent sports such as downhill skiing, cross country skiing, ice skating and ice fishing were the staples of winter recreation and had been for a long time. Snowmobiling altered that. With the advent of snowmobiling, people had a way to ride a machine over the snow and were able to go fairly long distances with relative ease.

In the beginning, there were no designated places or trails where one could ride a snowmobile. Consequently there was a lot of riding that involved trespassing as riders looked for any place that had open space where a snowmobile could go. This, of course did not go well with landowners. It was clear that something needed to be done so that snowmobilers could ride their machines without breaking the law. The answer to that problem was the development of the snowmobile trail system.

Early on, snowmobilers gathered together and formed clubs for the companionship and fun of riding together. They recognized the need to have designated trails upon which to ride and since there weren't trails available for them, they built their own. Eventually, all those individual trail segments were connected and the trail system evolved into it's present form. Today, we have approximately 18,000 miles of designated snowmobile trails in Minnesota.

The people who built those original trails back in the 1970's were in their 20's, 30's, 40's and 50's (for the most part). As time went by and those folks aged, they dropped out of the clubs. They either retired from the sport or died. The amazing thing about them though is that for the most part, they have been taking care of the trails all this time. A great deal of thanks is owed to those volunteers by the snowmobilers who ride those trails. Granted, there has been some influx of younger people into the clubs and that has been a great help, but it's not enough.

Far too many snowmobilers don't belong to a club and are not helping to maintain the trails. The reasons are so many. Some say they don't have enough time. But look at the founders and builders of the trails. They had jobs, kids, and kid's sports teams too and they found the time to do the actual building of the trails and then take care of them. Some don't want added responsibilities but if they don't step up and help, who will? Younger riders have always had a trail system ready and available for them and perhaps they think that they don't need to get involved. They can't be more mistaken.

In a few years, the founders of the trail system will be gone. The few younger members of the clubs will be left to shoulder the burden of trail maintenance and that of course will lead to problems. Too few club members and too much work for them will lead to burnout. If that happens, the few people still there will quit and the clubs will become history. The trail system will not have the care it needs and will fall into disrepair and will quickly be lost. If this ever happens, the chances of reopening closed trails will be slim.

This is the crisis that we who love snowmobiling will be facing soon. If you think the DNR will take over the maintenance of the trail system, forget it.

They don't have the money and they're not volunteers.

If you are a snowmobiler and want to ensure that there will always be a designated trail system for you to ride upon, I suggest that you find a club in your area, join it and start helping now so that you'll be ready to step in when the founders retire. That day is not far away.

During 2016, 791 blankets were distributed by the Northern Minnesota Chapter to children in crisis, from infants to age 18, through the hospitals in Bagley, Bemidji, Deer River, Fosston, Grand Rapids, Roseau and Thief River Falls.

“Make-A-Blanket Day” Announced

Angie has announced the annual "Make-a-Blanket Day" will be 9am - 3pm, Saturday, March 11 at Trinity Lutheran Church 123 29th Street NE in Bemidji. Coffee and rolls and a light lunch will be provided for volunteers who come to help assemble quilts or drop off quilts previously made. Blankets can be made from, cotton, flannel or fleece or knitted or crocheted afghans in sizes 40 x 40 to 52 x 70. As the need goes on all volunteers are appreciated.

Any questions can be directed to Angie at 218-368-7284.

The Cass Lake-Bena middle school receiving the traveling school trophy for the third consecutive year.

Snow Snakes Competition held at Diamond Point Park

BEMIDJI, MN – On Friday, February 17, a Gooni Ginebik, or traditional Ojibwe Snow Snakes Competition, was held between Cass Lake-Bena and Red Lake middle schools. The competition took place at Diamond Point Park in Bemidji and was hosted by Leech Lake Tribal College with support from Watermark Art Center and the American Indian College Fund.

Roughly 40 kids participated in the event. Individual students won first, second and third place medals in four categories: precision, distance, rolling hoops and artistic merit. Cass Lake-Bena took home the traveling school trophy for the third consecutive year; the trophy has been awarded at Snow Snake Competitions for the last 8 years.

For the competition, students create a "snow snake" by harvesting hardwoods, typically two inches wide, and painting the throwing stick in fun, creative colors and symbols. The snake is glided down a snow trough or track towards a target ring. Whichever snake stops closest to the center target garners the most points. The game is centuries old and was a popular winter sport played by many Native American tribes in the Midwest.

"This activity is unique in that it creates an intersection of athletics, creativity and history," said Karen Goulet, program director of Watermark's Native American Gallery. "We were thrilled to have the competition in Bemidji and look forward to expanding this event next year."

Thanks to BSU American Indian Resource Center and the City of Bemidji for accommodations.

Polk County Sheriff

On 02/24/17 at approximately 8:33pm, the Polk County Sheriff's Department responded to the Northwest Regional Correctional Center in Crookston, for a report of a suspicious vehicle that drove through both of their overhead sally port doors. A short time later, there was a report of a vehicle that struck the Ampride gas station. It was determined the same vehicle struck both buildings.

Polk County Deputies located the suspect vehicle near Ampride & conducted a traffic stop. The driver, a 62 yr old male, from Crookston, MN was taken into custody without incident.

No further information will be released at this time.

Assisting agencies were the Crookston Police Department & Crookston Area Ambulance.

On 2/25/2017, Polk County Sheriff's Office observed open water on Hill River Lake in Hill River Township. It is expected that the area of open water will expand due to the running water under the ice. The Sheriff's Office has decided to close the public access to the lake to all vehicular traffic as a safety precaution. Use good common sense when setting out on any frozen body of water. You cannot judge the thickness of the ice based on the appearance.

Diagnosing Your Water

The water that enters your home, has a long journey from start to finish. Along the way, water can pick up a lot of contaminants. Once the water reaches your municipal water treatment facility it is treated and distributed to the public. During this process chemical and physical processes are used to filter and disinfect harmful microorganisms. These systems filter out many impurities but not all the impurities that cause water that has a bitter taste, foul odor or mineral deposits.

There are a number of reasons why you need good water quality for use and consumption in your home. Chargewater.com outlines the top benefits of what water does for you:

- 1. Leads to Better Health
Quality water helps prevent waterborne illness. A 2009 University of California, Berkeley study found that participants who used a reverse osmosis/UV filter suffered about 12% fewer gastrointestinal illnesses that participants who drank unfiltered water.
- 2. Saves Money on Plumbing Fixtures and Appliances
Good water quality leads to a longer life for your appliances and fixtures, sparing you the cost of constant replacement.

- 3. Fresher Taste and Odor
Ever wonder why water from the tap sometimes smells like rotten eggs or tastes metallic? Hydrogen sulfide gas can cause water to give off an unpleasant odor (and damages plumbing). The presence of iron or manganese in water could lead to a metallic taste. This can happen due to a number of reasons in the overall journey water has to take to get to your home. But rest assured the water that comes from the tap is safe to drink.
- 4. Less Cleaning
Water impurities may lead to an abundance of mineral deposits that are typically found in hard water (for example, lime). This hard-to-remove build up can be frustrating to clean. Harsh scrubbing can wear away porcelain enamel if your bathtub or sink are made of porcelain. Using a water softener to purify the water means you can clean your plumbing fixtures and appliances less often while simultaneously increasing their lifespan.

Water Quality Tips
Now that we know the importance of water quality for use and consumption, it is time to take action. The following three simple tips can help you achieve and maintain good water quality:

- 1. Maintain Your Water Softener
If you have a water softener, make sure to regularly check on its salt levels. Lift up the softener tank lid—if the lid is less than half full, it needs salt. Pour some salt into it to replenish the salt levels to maximum functionality.

2. Keep Your Water Filters Clean

If you have a water filter, follow the filter manufacturer's instructions on how often to replace and/or clean the filter. If not regularly maintained, your filter may not be as effective at trapping water contaminants.

3. Wash Your Water Containers

Even the cleanest tap water can be contaminated if its storage container is dirty. Make sure to regularly wash your household pitchers, water bottles, and other containers with dish detergent. If the container is especially dirty, you can use unscented bleach and water to wash out the container.

Theology in the Trenches

Dog Food Dilemma

was precisely at this point that HE lifted the lid of the dog food container and promptly asked, “Is this all the dog food there is?”

I looked back at HIM, and HE at ME, and the chasm created was like that of the Great Divide.

HE stared blankly pointing out the fact that somehow, through the years, it’s become MY job to buy the dog food. And I, on the other hand, stared back just as intently while pointing out that HE lifts the dog food lid each day, and HE could have mentioned it sooner...rather than later!

ME: “My dog eats only a handful. There is plenty for her.”

HIM: “My dog eats a lot, and there’s not enough. Someone needs to go to town before we leave and buy more.”

ME: “There’s no time!”

HIM: “There’s no choice!”

ME: “I don’t like buying the dog food!”

HIM: “But you buy the groceries!”

ME: “Dog food is not people food. It’s not a grocery item. I don’t like using the grocery money for dog food!”

I got into the car, went to town, made the purchase, and thirty minutes later than planned, we rolled on down the road.

For two hours we drove. In complete silence we drove. A Christian music station played in the background, Marriage Encounters were advertised, praise songs were lifted on high, legislative issues were celebrated, but we cruised on...cold as ice all the while the temps rose within the confines of the space we inhabited.

Finally, after a major meltdown, hearts melted along with it.

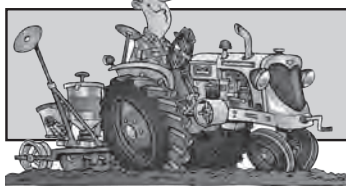

HIM: “Okay, I’ll buy the dog food from now on.”

ME: “I accept your proposal and will allow you to do just that.”

And that is why I love HIM because even though HE may not agree with the logic behind the argument, HE has a servant’s heart and lives it. And that is how WE make a nice US. The most Biblical words of all brought not only closure, but peace.

“I’m sorry.” We both said it; we meant it.

“Blessed are the peacemakers” (Matthew 5:9). Amen.

OBITUARIES

Services for Ronald Steile

Ronald Steile, age 76, of Gully, MN, passed away peacefully on Wednesday, February 22nd, at his home with his loving wife at his side. Memorial services will be held at 2:00 p.m. on Friday, March 3rd, at Lund Lutheran Church in Gully with Dawn Hanson officiating. Interment will be in Lund Lutheran Cemetery, Gully. Visitation will be held from 5:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m. with a 7:00 p.m. prayer service on Thursday, March 2nd, at the Carlin Funeral Home in Fosston. Family will also greet friends for one hour prior to the service on Friday at the church. Arrangements are with the Carlin Funeral Home of Fosston and messages of condolence may be sent at www.carlin-funeral.com.

Ron was born May 15, 1940, at the homestead north of Gully. He was the first born of Harold and Ragna (Qually) Steile. Although he was the first born son he would later come to have a brother. However, just 3 years after he was born along came twin sisters. This apparently took away some of his security of being an only child. As the story goes, one of the babies came up missing and his mother found her in the clothes hamper. Getting in some hot water over that incident with his mother, he apparently became his father's little hired man. Ron was driving tractor by the age of 5. It was likely one of those days on the tractor when he gazed up into the sky and saw the occasional plane fly over that he decided he wanted to become a pilot. Of course, anyone that came to know Ron soon learned that anything he set his mind to, came to volition. Some years later he did become an accomplished pilot. And, as he did with most of he passions, he branched it into several thriving business ventures, including a charter aviation company, airport, and an agricultural crop dusting company.

Ron began school at Gully. It is legend that he was quite adventurous especially during recess. Stories abound of sled rides down hills where Ron ended up submerged in a pond at the bottom of a hill or when his arm was broken after he was run over by a sled. His poor mother would be called and learn of various other naughty antics he was up to. He started his Freshman year in Gonvick. As it were, in every class he was seated next to another student whose last name also started with "S". Unknown to him at that time, she would become the love of his life.

After graduated from high school in 1958, Ron went on to attend the University of Minnesota. However, always the adventurous one, between the first and second year at the U, he flew to New York and boarded a banana boat going to South America. He also joined the ROTC during his days at the University. This gave him opportunities to be flown to various Air Force bases which was right up his alley.

Ron loved learning and over the years continued to take classes. He would take various self-improvement courses and even speech classes to stay on top of his game. It was always obvious that he was never afraid to tackle new things. In fact, it seemed he thrived on challenging himself. Ron enjoyed life and he was often heard to say that he never had a bad day. He was a caring person, he took interest in others and took the time to really listen. He had a youthful spirit and zeal for life. One of his "special duties" in the family was to bestow upon each family member a nickname, often with a special story of meaning behind it.

Ron married his beloved wife, Sonja Linda Strandberg on September 16, 1961 at Lund Lutheran Church in Gully. They immediately moved to San Francisco where he was excited to learn the lock smithing trade from his uncle. They later moved to Minneapolis where their 2 daughters, Denise and Janel were born. In 1970 they moved to Atlanta, Georgia where they started Ronco Irrigation, Inc., which eventually became the largest irrigation company in the Southeast. Ron had a knack for turning things he loved into thriving business opportunities. Over the years, there were numerous successful business ventures established under the name of Ronco, Incorporated in various states.

In the late 1990's they came back to Minnesota and moved to "Windy Hill" south of Trail where they built their retirement home overlooking a small lake. Ron loved to travel and had particular interest in the Civil War and World War II. Since moving back to Minnesota he had also developed a deep interest in geology as well as geneology. He researched his name and actually met a relative from Norway at one point. Interestingly, one of his relatives commented that he looked exactly like her uncles in Norway. Family, faith and church were very important. He was a life-long member of Lund Lutheran Church in Gully, having been baptized and confirmed in his faith there.

He loved to travel and had an interest in geography. In the later years, Ron along with his high school sweetheart and wife of 55 years bought a home in Green Valley, Arizona where they would winter. While living there Ron became active in the community, joining the Chamber of Commerce and belonged to a group mentoring club for young business owners. Later as his health began to fail, they settled in full time at their home on Windy Hill near Trail. There he enjoyed watching the geese, ducks and swans gather on the lake just below their home along with his faithful and constant little companion, Louie, a Coton de Tulear.

He will be greatly missed and will always be remembered for his positive personality. He lived life to the fullest and did not waste a minute of life doing nothing, having regrets or feeling sorry for himself.

Survivors include his wife of 55 years, Sonja Steile of Gully, MN; daughter, Denise (Scott) Hoeft; his grandchildren, Jessica (Wade) Robinson, Brandon (Sara) Hoeft, Jared (Jessie) Hoeft, Chad and Ryan Hoeft, Derrick Thor Finseth (son of Janel). His great grandchildren, Flynn, Everett, Audrey Rose Robinson, Haven Beckett, and Avery and Jase Hoeft.

He is also survived by his twin sisters and one brother, Dianne (Arden) Buchholz, Darlene (Dan) Alsup, and Rick (Sandra) Steile. Nieces, nephews and cousins also survive.

He was preceded in death by his father, Harold; his mother, Ragna; daughter, Janel; granddaughter, Kristen; and great granddaughter, Hallie.
