Vol. 47 Number 9

In this issue ... A detailed Fall Fest schedule on the back page as you prep for the upcoming weekend!

Nesland family reunion held in Grygla

Top left: On August 13th, there was a Nesland cousin reunion held at the Grygla Community Center with about 55 family members in attendance. Most are from Minnesota with a few coming from Washington State. 1st cousins in attendance, L-R: Milton Haugen, Nancy Byklum, Glen Nesland, Linda Anderson, Ken Nelson with dog, Emma, Jim DuChamp, Ron Nesland, Elaine Nesland and Gwen Blaine.

Top right: The last of the Nesland elders, beloved Aunt Bunny Nesland DuChamp, who celebrated her 100th birthday last January. She is from Plummer originally but moved to assisted living in TRF just a few years ago. Linda Anderson says, "Aunt Bunny still has a sharp mind. She was just a little too weak to attend our reunion."

The Nesland family in attendance. On August 23rd, some of the Nesland cousins will be visiting the Grygla School to donate the money from their free-will offering taken up at the reunion. The money will be donated to "It takes a village."

Information sought from early 1900's

A couple of weeks ago, a father and daughter, Kenneth & Ariam Hennemen, from Pleasanton, California, stopped by the home of Jean Foss. They were looking to find information about an old school that Kenneth's mother had taught in; her name was Emmaline Lambrecht. She taught in U2, also known as the Northwood Hanson School, which was located somewhere by Norris Hagen's in Section 29. The Hennemens are looking for any information related to this. They also had the following photos and would like to know if anyone knows the names of the individuals pictured. The photos say 1929, but records show it was 1926-1927.

If anyone has any information regarding any of this, please contact Jean Foss or the Grygla Eagle at grygla.eagle@gmail.com or call 218-689-6901.

Fall Fest Parade Grand Marshall

Mildred Klamar has been chosen to be the Grygla Fall Festival Parade Grand Marshall this year. She was selected by the Grygla Celebration Committee as she has been a very active member with the Fall Festival over the years. Mildred was very instrumental in getting the kiddie races going. She heads up the Roland Klamar Fly-In breakfast. She has been a member of the Lioness Club (until they disbanded) and a member of the Grygla Lions for over 40 years. She has also been a member of the Ladies Auxiliary and Legion for 15+ years. Mildred will be starting out the parade this Saturday, following the Color Guard.

Fall Fest buttons

Final reminder to purchase your buttons for the Grygla Fall Festival before 5pm this Friday, August 26th! Buttons can be purchased at the following locations:

Goodridge Liquor Store, Skime Store, Fourtown Store and Tavern, The Hound Pub & Dining, Sue's Beauty & Gift, Machinewell, Inc., American State Bank, Farmers Union Cenex & Ag Station, Grygla General Store, and Grain Bin

Café.

Buttons are $8 in advance or $10 at the gate. If buttons are sold out prior to the event, gate price remains at $10. A button is needed for the Slough grass band at 3:30pm and Odd Man In at 8pm. Buttons are numbered and the committee will draw for 3 cash prizes with the winning numbers posted on Saturday, August 27th. (1st place cash prize of $200; 2nd place $150; 3rd place $100)

Business renovations

American State Bank got a little facelift last week. The top part of the building was painted in color coordination with some of the other businesses in town. The Grain Bin Café is also undergoing some renovations with a crew busy putting new windows, siding and doors in.

Last week, NWRL (in conjunction with Visit TRF) hosted an exciting event at the Ralph Engelstad Arena in Thief River Falls. Brian Freeman was welcomed to town and spoke to a nice crowd. He is the author of "Thief River Falls" and the new author of Robert Ludlum's Jason Bourne series.
Freeman came up to Thief River Falls years ago as he was contracted to write an article about the story of DigiKey, TRF's largest employer, and an exciting thriller story was born! DigiKey welcomed him back on a private tour of their new building, that can fit 22 football fields inside, and the wheels are turning once again. A possible murder mystery in a large warehouse may have been born. Photos by Visit TRF

Travel back to the 1800s at Minnesota’s Oliver Kelley Farm

Minnesota’s history goes back millennia when the Native Americans first lived on the land. You can see evidence of their presence at places such as Jeffers Petroglyphs, Indian Mounds Regional Park, and many other ancient sites that are well worth visiting. Today, however, we want to introduce a place from Minnesota’s much more recent history. Oliver Kelley Farm is an 1800s homestead in Elk River, Minnesota, that offers up plenty of fascinating history. It is the site of a farm that dates back to the 1860s. At more than 100 years old, it’s an interesting place to learn about the history of farming in Minnesota.

One of the main parts of the 189-acre site is the Oliver Kelley homestead. It was built by Oliver H. Kelley, who became a pioneer of Minnesota farming after he moved to the state. The home remained in his family’s possession until 1901. The Minnesota Historical Society gained ownership 60 years later.

Inside the old farmhouse, you’ll learn about what it was like to live on a working farm more than 100 years ago. Costumed tour guides will offer details about how people cooked, worked, and lived life.

You’ll find historic furnishings, appliances, and everything people used to bring comfort and function into their home.

Outside, the grounds are beautiful. Visitors will find gardens and crops. There are even opportunities to take part in farming, from picking vegetables to churning butter.

Not only are there vegetables. There are also animals, including cows, horses, pigs, and chickens. Guests of all ages will enjoy interacting with these animals as they learn about how the animals were farmed over a century ago.

Guests can also take a peek at old farming equipment. With today’s machinery, it’s hard to imagine going back to simpler times. But it is still interesting to visit and learn about what life in Minnesota was like long ago!

• SIMPLY DELICIOUS

By Kari Sundberg, Eagle Editor

Well, with school just around the corner and fall sports back in full swing, fall is in the air. With that comes ALL the pumpkin stuff, we know. I’m guilty of being totally basic this time of year – I love all the fall scented candles, crisp leaves, cute boots and flannels and pumpkin-spiced everything. Yup. Bring it on.

So this week’s recipe is for Pumpkin Cheesecake Pancakes. I’m really hoping to make these either Saturday or Sunday morning of Fall Fest. It seems fitting, doesn’t it?

They’re made with real pumpkin and layers with an easy no-bake maple cheesecake filling. (Serves 4)

- 1 1/2 c. all purpose flour
- 2 Tbsp. sugar
- 3 tsp. baking powder
- 3/4 tsp. cinnamon
- 3/4 tsp. pumpkin pie spice
- 1 1/3 c. milk
- 1/2 c. pumpkin puree
- 1 egg
- 1 Tbsp. oil
- For cheesecake filling:
- 1 8 oz. package cream cheese
- 1/4 c. sour cream
- 1/4 c. maple syrup
- Instructions

Combine flour, sugar, baking powder, and spices in a large mixing bowl. In a separate bowl, combine milk, pumpkin puree, egg, and oil. Pour pumpkin mixture into flour mixture and stir until just combined.

Pour by 1/3 cup onto hot griddle.

Prepare cheesecake filling by whipping cream cheese, sour cream, and maple syrup. Layer pancakes with cheesecake filling. Top with pecans (optional) and a little drizzled maple syrup.

DNR seeks applications for advisory committees on natural heritage, game and fish funds, hunting and fishing

The Minnesota Department of Natural Resources is recruiting new members to serve on seven key advisory groups related to Minnesota’s natural heritage, the Game and Fish fund, and hunting and fisheries management. Interested people can sign up on the Engage with DNR website (engage.dnr.state.mn.us/advisory-group-appointment-opportunities).

In addition to the specific knowledge and experience required for each committee, the DNR seeks inclusive and well-rounded advisory committees, encompassing differences including but not limited to race, ethnicity, nationality, religion, socioeconomic status, education, marital status, language, age, gender, sexual orientation, mental or physical ability, life experience, ideas, knowledge and learning styles.

Natural Heritage Advisory Committee

The NHAC advises the DNR on issues relating to sustaining the state’s natural heritage, biological diversity and ecosystem services. The two Game and Fish Fund committees provide citizen oversight of Minnesota’s Game and Fish Fund.

NHAC members make recommendations to help protect high quality prairies, forests, wetlands and other native habitats, and the diversity of plants and animals they support.

NHAC applicants should have knowledge, demonstrated dedication or experience related to natural resource management, conservation biology, ecological education and outreach, and other aspects of Minnesota’s natural heritage.

New member appointments with three-year terms will begin in January 2023 and extend through December 2026. Minnesota residents with interest or expertise in sustaining our state’s natural heritage can apply online until 4:30 p.m. Monday.

Oct. 17. Interested applicants can learn more by visiting the committee page of the DNR website (mndnr.gov/NHAC).

Game and Fish Fund

Each year, the Fisheries Oversight Committee and the Wildlife Oversight Committee review how the DNR spent funds from the Game and Fish Fund during the previous fiscal year. The Budgetary Oversight Committee, an umbrella committee composed of select members from the FOC and WOC, combines those reviews to produce an annual report and spending recommendations.

Minnesota’s Game and Fish Fund is the DNR’s most important fund for delivering fisheries and wildlife management as well as natural resource law enforcement (mndnr.gov/LicenseDollarsAtWork). Nearly $100 million flows in and out of this fund each year. The revenue is primarily the product of hunting and fishing license sales, federal reimbursements and a sales tax on state lottery tickets. DNR’s use of money from the Game and Fish Fund is subject to legislative approval.

Appointees these two oversight committees have a range of experience and a variety of knowledge and interests related to hunting, fishing and trapping. Applicants must have a strong interest in reviewing the proper expenditure of funds received from licenses, permits, stamps and related revenue sources and participating in writing an annual report.

New member appointments with two-year terms will begin January 2023 and extend through December 2024. Any Minnesota resident with interest or expertise in citizen oversight of the Game and Fish Fund may apply online until 4:30 p.m. Monday, Sept. 19. Interested applicants can learn more by visiting the committee page of the DNR website (mndnr.gov/GameFishOversight).

Hunting and Fishing committees

Seats are currently available on several committees that advise the DNR about important fisheries and wildlife topics.

The application period continues until 4:30 p.m. Sept. 19 for the Deer Advisory Committee, the Mille Lacs Fisheries Advisory Committee, the Minnesota R3 Council (R3 stands for recruiting, retaining and reactivating hunters and anglers), and the state’s five fisheries work groups (bass, catfish, northern pike and muskellunge, panfish, and walleye).

Members will serve two- to three-year terms and must commit to attending at least three of the four videoconference meetings their committee has annually. Detailed committee and application information for each group is available on the DNR website:

- Deer Advisory Committee (mndnr.gov/Mammals/Deer/Management/Deer-Advisory-Committee.html)
- MLFAC (mndnr.gov/MillelacsLake/MLFAC.html)
- R3 Council (mndnr.gov/R3/Council)
- Fisheries work groups (mndnr.gov/FishGroups).
- Contact: Natural Heritage Advisory Committee – Jan Shaw Wolff, ecosystem management and protection section manager, 651-259-5106; Game and Fish Fund – Beth Carlson, planning director, 651-259-5531. Fish and Wildlife advisory groups – Kelly Wilder, policy planning supervisor, 651-259-5182.
