Matheus Zappa Ramos not a common area name

By Bonnie Kirchman
Billy and Daphne Klema and their daughters Bailey and Kailey opened their home this school year to Matheus Zappa Ramos, who is known as Zappa to family and friends. Zappa is an exchange student from Brazil.
Zappa is from Sao Jose dos Campos, in the Brazilian state of Sao Paulo. His city has close to one million residents, so coming to Gonvick, with a population around 300 was a bit scary for him. It was also difficult for him to leave all his friends in Brazil. He was encouraged to be an exchange student by his mother, who, along with her sisters, was an exchange student. Their host homes were in southern places like Florida, so Zappa's stay in northern Minnesota was quite a different experience than theirs.
"When I came, I had the worst English in my family, but I am going home with the best English," Zappa said.
One of the advantages of studying for a year in the United States is the opportunity to improve English skills. Zappa's first language in Brazil, and the one spoken in his school, is Portuguese. Although he has taken English classes since he was four years old, Zappa was not really concerned about it until he realized he was coming here. When he first got to Minnesota, it was difficult to follow the English and it seemed like everyone spoke so fast. After several months of being here and conversing with his host family and friends, he now finds English much easier, to the point where he now thinks in English. He said video games and movies also helped him improve his English.
Arriving in the area in August, one of the first things that Zappa was surprised by was the sun, not something one would expect when coming from Brazil to Minnesota. What was striking to him was the later sunset during the northern summer days, making our daylight hours much longer than he was used to in his home. In Brazil, the length of days does not vary as much as in northern Minnesota and sunset occurs more consistently between 6:30 and 7:30 in the evening.

Zappa's home in Brazil is about an hour away from the coast, where it is very warm. He and his friends would go there and enjoy doing many outdoor activities. They could also travel to the mountains, an hour away in another direction, where it would be much cooler. Some of the things he likes to do with his friends in Brazil are going to the beach, playing soccer, riding bikes, and spending time with his friends at parties and barbecues. His home is also about an hour from his state's capital city, which has a population of 13 million. There are many things to do in this huge city, from visiting Chinatown to watching soccer games.
While in Minnesota, Zappa saw snow for the first time. And our colder weather means dressing warmer and enjoying outdoor activities that are much different than what he is used to doing in Brazil. Over the past winter, Zappa enjoyed many winter pastimes, including snowmobiling and ice fishing. He was impressed that he could "walk on water" in the winter months. He was also able to go to Buena Vista and try snow tubing.
Over the school year, Zappa has been attending Clearbrook-Gonvick school along with host sisters Bailey and Kailey. His school in Brazil is much larger, with 300 students in his class there. Another difference between his school in Brazil and here is the schedule. In Brazil, the school day starts at 7:00 in the morning and runs until 12:40. Students do not eat lunch at school and do most of their studying outside of school hours. Tests are taken every Thursday after the regular school hours. In school here, Zappa took required classes including Math, Biology, English, gym, and U.S. History. He was also able to take elective classes like shop. He liked that he could have a study hall during the school day, so he could work on homework and school projects. This made it easier for him to be involved in sports after school, something schools in Brazil do not have. Overall, Zappa found the classes here somewhat easier than those in Brazil. U.S. History was his hardest class, but also his favorite.

Casey Kroulik, who has been Zappa's U.S. History teacher this past year, describes Zappa in the following way: "Zappa is a great student. He is always upbeat and positive in class. His positive attitude is contagious in class and you can tell he improves the room for the other students as well. He works well both on his own and with others, and has an amazing grasp of American history and the concepts that go along with it for someone who is not from here. He consistently has some of the highest grades in the class. He has been very fun to have in class."
While he has attended Clearbrook-Gonvick school, Zappa participated in many school activities. He played on the boys' basketball team and is on the track team. Being on these teams was a good experience for him, helping him make new friends and allowing him to travel around the area to see other schools. Zappa did an exhibit for the science fair. He also enjoyed going to prom and the prom after-party. In Brazil, they don't have prom. Instead, they have a senior party.
Zappa has also made many friends while he has lived here. In Brazil, people aren't allowed to drive until they are eighteen. But his friends here have licenses, allowing them to drive to pick Zappa up to enjoy doing things together. He has enjoyed going to Bemidji to go to movies or go to Walmart.
Zappa enjoyed trying lefse and potato klub while staying with the Klemas. They don't have peanut butter or syrup in Brazil. We also have more types of candy than are available in Brazil. Zappa ate more fruits and vegetables at home in Brazil where they are less expensive to buy than here. Fast food is more expensive in Brazil than in the United States, so they tend to eat less of that.
The Klema family introduced Zappa to other family traditions. Guns are not allowed where Zappa lives in Brazil, so experiencing hunting season was new to him. He tried venison for the first time and even ate meat from a bear Kailey shot. Black Friday shopping at Target and Walmart was also an experience he will remember from his stay here.

Another American tradition the Klemas shared with Zappa is the "road trip". The family traveled to Brownsville, Texas to visit Daphne's parents. This was the longest car trip Zappa had ever taken, but he enjoyed seeing various states along the way and cities he had only seen in movies. At home in Brazil, Zappa has travelled extensively through his country. But there, if the trip is longer than five hours, it is cheaper to fly than drive.
Holiday traditions are somewhat different in Brazil than here. Because 90 per cent of the population is Catholic, many religious holidays are observed in Brazil. So many that, when added up, would amount to about a month of days off from school. Brazil's carnival is a week-long celebration of parties, with people eating with friends and staying up all night. While here in Minnesota, Zappa experienced his first Thanksgiving, eating a traditional turkey dinner with the Klema family. Christmas is celebrated in Brazil, but the snow made it feel very different.
As an only child, having sisters Bailey and Kailey as part of his host family was also a new experience. He said they were always together doing things like watching movies. And like siblings in most families, they pick on each other. The girls tease Zappa about picking his favorite sister, but he obviously enjoys being with both of them.
Soon Zappa will return to Brazil, where he will join his family, which consists of his mom, a physical therapist, and his dad, a computer engineer. His parents have added a French bull dog into the family, so Zappa will also have a pet when he gets home. After returning to Brazil, Zappa will finish the last six months of his senior year. He plans to go to military college to be a pilot. His career choice has been influenced by his grandparents and aunts who have worked in that field. Zappa's goal is to be a pilot for the Brazilian Air Force.
When speaking about Zappa's return home to Brazil, Daphne said to him, "I can't believe I don't get to keep you!"
"Fifty per cent of me wants to go home, fifty per cent wants to stay here," was Zappa's reply. For him, the hardest part of coming to Minnesota was leaving his friends in Brazil, and he said leaving his friends here would be the worst part of leaving here when he returns home.
Although the Klemas only have Zappa in their home for this school year, it is clear that he will be part of their family forever. They look forward to keeping in touch with Zappa and hope he will return for many visits in the coming years.

Construction to start in late August on school addition

By Bonnie Kirchman
The Clearbrook-Gonvick School Board approved final plans for bidding on the new addition at the May 20, 2019 meeting. Other topics addressed include room painting, a new NWMF grant, and staffing changes.
Sarah Goudge gave the Spotlight on Education program, featuring photographs of many events students have been participating in over the last month.
Principal's Report
Principal Carl Dugstad reported on end-of-year activities including kindergarten graduation on May 22nd and the awards ceremony and baccalaureate, also to be held on May 22nd. The school cook-out was successful, as were the senior class meal and the track and field day.
Staff training, including CPR training for staff, completed with the help of Andy Anderson and Neil Dolan, Bagley SRO, was addressed in the principal's report. Mr. Anderson is scheduled to complete DARE training in South Dakota this summer. The make-up days for staff will be held on May 28-29 and will focus mainly on curriculum issues.
Mr. Dugstad also reported that Children's Dental Services will be providing dental care at the school over the summer. The district simply needs to provide space for the service.
Superintendent Report
Mr. Burgess, school superintendent, reported that an Achievement Integration Plan was approved. The school will participate with six area districts in the surrounding area. Students will participate in a program focusing on leadership activities.
A letter from the attorney general of Minnesota was shared with the board. School districts will not be allowed to hold students who have lunch account balances back from graduation.
At this point in the legislative process, 2% increases are expected for state funding over the next two years. Increased funding for special education is anticipated, however state funding has not been finalized as of the time of the meeting.
Revenue is up somewhat from last year, while expenses have increased by approximately $86,000. The majority of increase in expenses is due to licensing and instruction and repairs.
In staffing changes, Mr. Burgess reported that the district expects to have a full-time speech therapist through BRIC next year. Currently, teletherapy services are being provided, with the student receiving services across a computer screen with a paraprofessional in the room. Advertising has been placed for a full-time cook.
Consent Calendar
Consent calendar including bills, electronic transfers, and treasurer's report were presented and approved by the board.
Old Business
The board approved a new agreement of $3,000 to rent the gym from the city of Clearbrook. Students and coaches will assist with setting up and taking down the gym. The school will continue to work with the city to divide these tasks.
New Business
The board approved resolutions to participate in the Minnesota State High School League in 2019-2020 and to name Jeff Burgess as the official authority to approve access for MDE reports.
Ken Anderson, project manager for ICS Consulting, presented final drawings, including the floor plan, of the new early childhood addition for approval from the board. He anticipates bidding to be done in late June with bid packages for general construction, mechanical, electrical work. A bid package for furnishings and equipment will be available later. Construction is expected to start in late August. The new addition will be partitioned off during building, to allow classes to continue during construction. Questions from the board regarding future technology needs and disruption of recess were addressed. The construction includes rough-ins for future technology needs such as SMART boards, with flexibility for future electrical needs incorporated into the plans. School administration is planning options for recess during the construction.

Various scheduling scenarios in the event of construction delays were also discussed by the board.
A question regarding exceptions to graduation attire was brought to school administration. Currently, the policy does not allow for additions or exceptions to the standard graduation attire. With graduation just days away, the board will revisit this issue later to allow time for study and discussion of the policy.
The board moved to accept a grant from NWMF for $15,000 to be used for a project that will involve students in learning opportunities regarding careers in early childhood education. The grant money will be used to purchase a curriculum addressing social and emotional learning and will help teach students how to interact with others. High school students will be involved in teaching the curriculum to elementary level students in weekly, 20-minute sessions.
The board approved a three-color palette including the neutral, blue, and green colors that match the specific colors used in the new addition. These will be the colors used for accent walls in current classrooms and also the colors to be used as classrooms are repainted. Many classrooms are in need of complete paint jobs, after many years of touch-up painting by custodial staff. Staff members have requested a schedule for painting a certain number of rooms each year, to allow them time to plan and prepare their classrooms. Estimates of costs for painting accent walls in classrooms have been received. Additional estimates to paint entire rooms will be obtained. The need for complete painting of classrooms on a rotating schedule will be included in upcoming finance committee discussions.
The hiring of Blake Hanson as a part-time custodian was approved. Blake has been a substitute custodian for the district.
The DCD teacher has resigned. As this has been a BRIC position, the school has the option to continue or hire a teacher directly. Initially, the school will advertise the position but if there isn't a qualified applicant, the school will continue to contract with BRIC for the DCD position.
The resignation of Andrew Kaucher, high school English teacher, was accepted by the board. Mr. Burgess commented that Mr. Kaucher's classes were thought provoking and the district was fortunate to have him. Mr. Kaucher is returning to his home state of Pennsylvania to pursue teaching opportunities there.

Clean-up week completed

The Gonvick City Clean-up week was completed with the Clearwater County Sentence to Serve assisting with the pickup. Members of the Jack Pine Pals with their leader Laura Dahl presented to the council the club's Lending Library that they would like to put on as a park project. It will be a way for kids using the park facilities to take or leave a book for summer reading.
The council will have KLM Engineering of Woodbury do the inspection service on the 100,000 gallon water tower.
Two issues were brought to the council. The culvert issue on Alice Street near the Community Homes and keeping the easement open south of Stein's Bus Garage.

The packed sand in the area of the water main break that happened last winter will have to be dug up and packed with class 5 gravel.
The liquor license for the Gonvick American Legion was approved.
Bills were approved with a total of $25,552.58. They included: Alarm 1; Juvenile Mics. 1; Medical 3; Officer Detail 1; Suicide Related 1; Suspicious Activity 2; Theft 1; Traffic Complaint 2; Traffic Stop 6; Trespass 1 for a total of 19.

Statement from leader Daudt on line 3 court ruling

ST. PAUL, MN—House Minority Leader Kurt Daudt, R-Crown, issued the following statement regarding today's decision from the Minnesota Court of Appeals regarding Line 3. While additional information was ordered in order to complete the final Environmental Impact Statement (FEIS), the court rejected "most of the relators' assertions of error" relating to other aspects of the FEIS.

"It's encouraging that the court rejected nearly all of the challenges brought by environmental groups who oppose this pipeline and the thousands of jobs that come with it," Daudt said. "Replacing aging infrastructure is the right thing to do for Minnesota; it's good our economy, it will grow jobs, and it will enhance environmental protection. This ruling should not change that, and should not stop this important project."

According to the ruling, the Minnesota Department of Commerce has 60 days under state statute (page 9) to "prepare an adequate EIS" and fix the issue identified by the court.

"The Line 3 replacement has been subject to unprecedented review, and I hope will proceed without further interference once the environmental impact statement is finalized," Daudt concluded.

CWLC's Youth Connection Awarded TEAM Foundation Grant

Clear Waters Life Center was recently awarded a TEAM Foundation grant for Youth Connection, CWLC's after-school youth program. We experienced nearly a 100% attendance increase at Youth Connection during the 2018-19 school year from the previous year. With increased attendance comes increases in operating costs like food and craft supplies, plus transportation challenges. The grant will allow us to purchase a used 12-passenger van to supplement the one that we already have and provide partial program support funds for the continuance and further growth of Youth Connection.

Our vision for our after-school program is to build positive connections and provide a safe, supervised, and caring place for youth to connect with their peers and caring adults, to be creative, to be active, and to hear about God's love and purpose for them.

When was the last time you thought about the challenges facing our new generation of youth? Chances are that you have been confronted by those challenges even today. Maybe it was a story on the news; a family in the community; listening to friends' concerns as they navigate parenting in our culture; or a conversation you had with your own teens as you try to guide them through the cultural minefield.

When we look around at the struggles that youth are facing, we see broken families; a generation addicted to electronics, unable to connect in healthy ways; depression; anxiety; and loneliness. We see young people who feel unseen, unloved and isolated. These challenges are real; they are complicated, and it can feel overwhelming.

While the challenges are many faceted, we believe change will come through one very important avenue: relationship. Our youth need relationships. They need to know that they matter; are important to someone; and feel they are a significant part of the communities in which they live.

We are excited about the new relationships which we are privileged to nurture. Youth Connection staff and volunteers are starting to build bridges and connections with families and the community. It has been an amazing journey to be part of a supportive community that takes care of the next generation! Thank you!

Corrine's Corner

By Corrine Richards

It is that time again. The monthly fish fry at the Gonvick American Legion.

The Northern State Bank in Gonvick will be having their Dairy Day June 14. They will be serving ice cream in honor of all dairy farmers.

Guess what the Gully promoters are again planning a fall event. Mark your calendar for October 19th." Should be another dandy one.

Anyone have a place in the county that the new veterinarian in Gonvick will be able to rent. Call the Cornerstone Vets office at 218-533-0497.

Events coming up this summer... It is already getting packed full. The Gonvick Lions Rodeo is set for July 12 and 13. That is a Friday and Saturday night with the parade on Saturday afternoon.

Sunday July 21 is the Berner Days and United Lutheran Church Reunion.

An historic military honor for a White Earth family. Peter Thompson, a decorated Vietnam War veteran and member of the White Earth Nation, will soon be buried with honors at Arlington National Cemetery — a first for the tribe.

The White Earth Veterans Association Honor Guard and the veteran's family left by bus to Washington for Thompson's June 5 burial at the hallowed veteran's cemetery directly across the Potomac River from the nation's capital.

There's a scam going around right now. You might receive a call from someone claiming to be from Social Security or another agency. Calls can even display 1-800-772-1213, Social Security's national customer service number, as the incoming number on your caller ID. In some cases, the caller states that Social Security does not have all of your personal information, such as your SSN, on file. Other callers claim Social Security needs additional information so the agency can increase your benefit payment, or that Social Security will terminate your benefits if they do not confirm your information. This appears to be a widespread issue, as reports have come from people across the country. These calls are not from Social Security.

Joke Time... A Norwegian when asked why he dragged a chain all over town, answered, "Have you ever tried to push von?"

The Line 3 Replacement Project will provide a more than $2 billion economic boost to Minnesota alone.

Will Line 3 benefit Minnesota's economy?

Private investment in Minnesota for the Line 3 Replacement Project is anticipated to be responsible for more than 8,600 jobs, $334 million in labor income and a total economic impact of more than $2 billion—a real boost to Minnesota's economy.

> Here are some ways Minnesota communities will benefit from the Line 3 Replacement Project:

Local business boost

During construction, Enbridge sources local businesses like hardware stores, supply stores and parts dealers for goods and services to support their operations.

Ongoing support

Enbridge pays more than $30 million in property taxes each year for our existing operations in Minnesota. The Line 3 Replacement Project will add an additional $19.5 million in taxes, bringing our annual total to nearly $50 million—supporting essential services and infrastructure development in communities across Minnesota.
