Clearwater County Food Shelf Will Receive Matching Funds for March Contributions

Each March, Minnesota FoodShare directs the March Campaign, the largest food drive in the state and restocks almost 300 food shelves across Minnesota. Throughout the year, Minnesota FoodShare advocates on behalf of hungry families with state and federal lawmakers and educates the public about hunger in Minnesota. Best of all, the Minnesota FoodShare acts as a clearinghouse for cash donations and gives matching funds for cash donations made to our county between March 1 and April 7, so your cash donations will add up to much more than the amount of your check.

The 2015 March campaign in Clearwater County was a great success. "Last year's March Campaign was a first for me as site manager and I really didn't know what to expect. Well, we received over two tons of food from our generous citizens of Clearwater County and you guys kept us very busy all month!" notes site manager Suzann Moen. "I am so grateful for the volunteers that helped collect and deliver the food, along with those who helped in sorting it. I know what to expect this year and am looking forward to seeing those of you who drop off donations at the Food Shelf on Wednesdays from 10:00 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. You can also use the drop off boxes at the Bagley Public Library and Clearwater County Court House."

"We have greatly appreciated the generosity of past donors, especially our long-time faithful," adds Clearwater County Food Shelf President Becky Colebank. "The people of this county have been wonderful."

You can contribute in several ways: 1. Organize a food drive at your work place 2. Make a contribution and either mail it to Clearwater County Food Shelf, P. O. Box 578, Bagley MN 56621 or drop it off on Wednesdays at the food shelf which is located at 114 Main Ave N. (basement of the American Legion – go to back door) in Bagley. The Bagley Public Library is another drop-off point. 3. Volunteer to work at the food shelf. We need volunteers to sort food, pack boxes and interview clients on Wednesdays of every week. To volunteer, call food shelf president Becky Colebank at 218-968-2268 or Site Coordinator Suzann Moen at 694-3989.

The Clearwater County Food Shelf is open every Wednesday from 10:00 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

Scandinavian/American music at Timbers Event Center Friday

Skålmusik and Tjårnblom will be performing in Bagley on Friday, March 11 at 7:00 p.m. at Timbers Event Center in Bagley, the Daroo's building west on Highway 2 in Bagley. That will be following by a dance after the concert.

Skålmusik (pronounced SKOAL-musik) performs traditional Scandinavian and Scandinavian/American dance and vocal music. They are descendants of immigrant Swedes and Norwegians to Minnesota, they play the music of their heritage on fiddles, accordions, guitar, double bass, pump organ, and string bass.

Wife and husband team Mary Abendroth and Paul Wilson are both inspired by their families: Abendroth specializes in singing lullabies and "ditties" she learned from her Swedish grandfather, and Wilson makes violins in the tradition of his great grandfather. Brothers Arne and Bob Anderson grew up in a family where all seven children and their parents played music together. Arne has been a professional luthier for 25 years and has built hundreds of string instruments, and Bob still plays the same string bass he has owned for over 50 years.

Completing the band on piano accordion is Harold Herboldt, who has been playing for about 60 years.

Skålmusik has performed at elementary schools and elder hostels, ethnic festivals, community celebrations, state fairs, and historical societies. They have performed for the King and Queen of Sweden, appeared on Garrison Keillor's "A Prairie Home Companion," and toured in Sweden and Norway.

Also performing on Friday night will be Tjårnblom. The group is comprised of four friends who live in Minneapolis and have played Scandina-

On Friday, March 4th, Department of Natural Resources officials and researchers from the University of Minnesota were in the Grygla area studying a bear that was collared approximately 6 years ago. The female bear is 17 years old and had three baby cubs in the den with her. Wildlife officers were able to tranquilize the bear, pull her out of the den and hook her up to monitors for testing, which shows how her system and heart work through hibernation.

vian music together for many years. They travel a modern “Snoose Boulevard Highway” in a musical journey, and play a repertoire of both old and new Swedish, Finnish, and Minnesota tunes for dancing and for listening.
Tjärnblom is the name of a Swedish flower and this album is yet another flower born in Minneapolis’ Scandinavian American music community. Two nyckelharpas (Swedish key fiddle) played by Cheryl Paschke and Mary Crimi are joined by the sound of harmonium (Val Eng) and octave mandolin (Joe Alfano). The result is a beautiful blending of string and wind sounds. The tunes are a journey through several provinces in Sweden, new tunes from Minnesota, two tunes from Finland and a Gaelic melody as well. The exquisite arrangements of the tunes delight the ear. Tjärnblom loves to play music for dancing. So be prepared to keep your feet moving as you listen to their joyful Swedish folk music.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Clearbrook-Gonvick Community Member,

The Clearbrook-Gonvick Early Childhood Initiative is focused on nurturing the healthy growth and development of our young children and the community that surrounds them. Therefore, we are hosting a Healthy Kids Extravaganza for our Clearbrook-Gonvick children on Monday, April 11th.

The parents of our youngest community members are extremely busy. It is our goal to give them ideas and tools to help them provide a healthy, nurturing environment for their children. We invite you to help us provide these ideas and opportunities to our parents and their children. Your participation will enable your organization to touch many community members and potential customers.

Our evening will start out with a healthy dinner for our children in the CG school commons. As families finish their meals, they can move into the CG High School Gym to visit booths set up by our local organizations and businesses, along with some carnival booths set up by our Clearbrook-Gonvick student organizations.

We would love to have your group host a booth at the event!

The CG Healthy Kids Extravaganza will take place from 5:30 – 7:00.

Following are some ideas for your booth. Feel free to call and discuss ideas or ask us for help in determining an activity...we would love to help!

Fire Department: Meet a fireman; try on a fireman's coat, fire safety, Grocers: Healthy food games, ball toss at veggie cans, etc.

Organizations/Local Businesses: planting table, "healthy" games, healthy sleep, learning, tasty treats, exercise routines, run and play, be outside 15 minutes each day, my plate.org, healthy reading,

If you are unable to attend, please consider donating a door prize, small give-away for each child or even a donation to help with some of the expenses.

A CG ECI representative will be touching base with you to organize your booth and assist with planning. We look forward to working with you and your organization in bettering our community!

Thanks for your support!

Starting Garden Seeds
It is time for the annual reminder for gardeners to begin planting garden seeds indoors. Starting garden flower and vegetable plants in the home can provide the home gardener with enjoyment as well as some definite advantages.

One of the greatest of these advantages is that it allows the gardener to start varieties of vegetable and flowers that are not readily available from local bedding plant sources. Most communities have a local hardware or farm store or garden center that can provide a wide variety of garden seeds that can be used to start your own transplants.

Before deciding to start seeds at home, it is necessary to look at the conditions necessary to grow healthy transplants. To grow good transplants, you must be able to provide proper levels of light, temperature and humidity. The greatest problem encountered is the lack of sufficient light. Unless you are fortunate enough to own a greenhouse, you will need to use supplemental light. The least expensive way to supply light is by using fluorescent lights. An inexpensive shop light set-up with 40 watt cool white tubes will do nicely. The light source should be movable so that it can be kept at about 4" above the seedlings and should be left on 12-14 hours per day, using a simple timer.

It is wise to have a plan on what seeds you will be purchasing and planting to avoid impulse purchases later! It is important to select good quality seed because the cost of seed is small in comparison to the investment of land, labor and time during the growing season. Look for seeds with disease resistance, and consider days to harvest as we have a relatively short growing season in Minnesota. Try something new each year, but grow your old standbys so you can make some performance comparisons.

The starting medium should be loose, well-aerated, well-drained and sterile. Consider using one of the many soilless products available on the market, these mixtures are sterile and drain well. If you prefer to make your own starting medium, a good soil mixture can be prepared by using a 1-1-1 mixture of good garden loam, peat moss and sand.
Select a container in which to start seedlings that is clean, sturdy, fits into the space available, and holds sufficient starting medium for good root development. Pots, trays and flats from previous years can be reused if they are thoroughly cleaned and then sterilized with a solution of nine parts water and one-part household bleach.

When planting the seeds, fill the container with the starting medium and then use a small block of wood or other flat surface to push the medium down so that it is about one-half inch below the rim. Broadcast the seeds thinly on the surface or plant them in rows. Cover the seed by sifting a layer of the planting medium, finely milled peat moss or vermiculite on the surface. A rule of thumb is to cover the seeds to a depth of three times their diameter. Some very small seeds, like petunias and impatiens, should not be covered at all, but pressed into the medium. Read the instructions on the packet carefully, as some seeds have different requirements.

After sowing the seeds, bottom water the container or spray with a very fine mist. Cover the container with a plastic dome or sheet of polyethylene plastic and place it in a warm location with a constant temperature of 60-75 degrees F. Providing a consistent heat source from underneath can also be beneficial to seedlings. Seeds will germinate sooner and produce healthier roots if the soil temperature is warm. As soon as you see emerging plants, loosen the plastic cover and place the containers in bright light. Keep the soil moist as the seedlings must not dry out, but use care so that the planting medium does not become waterlogged. When the second pair of leaves appear, transplant the seedlings into peat pots or other individual containers. Seedlings do not need fertilizer until they have several sets of true leaves. Fertilize with a diluted fertilizer solution only once a week.

Do not start your seeds too early! Best results are obtained when the transplants are relatively small, stocky plants that have five to seven leaves. Refer to the seed packet for starting dates for vegetables and flowering annuals. Recommended seeds to start in early March include broccoli, cabbage, cauliflower, petunias, snapdragons, and ageratum. Peppers can be started in mid-March along with clove, annual phlox, strawflower and sweet alyssum. Tomatoes can be started in the first week of April along with amaranthus, bachelor buttons, and morning glory. Mid-April is the time to start cosmos, sweet peas, and zinnias. Early-mid-May is the time needed to harden off seedlings. The time required to grow a transplant is usually given on the seed packet in weeks from the date to plant them outdoors, which for warm season plants is Memorial Day in central Minnesota.

Select your seeds, gather the needed materials, and when the time is right, gather the children and begin having fun starting seeds indoors. For more suggestions on starting seeds indoors, please visit the University of Minnesota Extension website at www.extension.umn.edu and search "Starting Seeds Indoors." For more information, con-

Kamp Kenneth served up food and fun on Sunday night

On Sunday night, the Relay For Life team Kamp Kenneth, held a evening of food and fun. The food was Klub, a Norwegian specialty enjoyed my many in the area.

The fun was a concert held after the good food, was the musical talents of North Country Gospel group.

The evening began at 5:30 p.m. with a delicious meal of two klub, served with ham, and your choice of toppings (butter, cream, or syrup) and a large selection of delicious bars to chose from as your dessert. Coffee, lemonaid or milk for beverages also. Approximately 130 meals were served in the Vernes Lutheran Church dining room.

After the meal, at 7:30 p.m. about 60 persons gathered in the sanctuary to enjoy the talents of North County Gospel group. Members of the group are Steve Rasmusson, Gary Johannesohn, Tim Johnson and Ann Johnson.

They sang a variety of gospel songs to begin the evening. Some were good old favoriters, and some were new to the audience. They ended the evening with some good old fashioned country music and also honored the veteran's that were at the show.

Kamp Kenneth is a Relay For Life team named after Kenneth Bergerson who died of cancer on March 23, 2012. Pictured are members of Kenneth's family (l to r): Scot Thompson, Tyler Thompson, Carol Connell, Jodi Thompson, Linda Godtland, Kenneth's wife Evelyn Bergerson, and Lloyd Godtland.

Joke time...
A friend from Portland, North Dakota sent me this joke. Thank you.

A couple was dining in a very nice restaurant when the lady slid down on her chair, under the long table cloth to the floor.

The man kept eating, very calmly. The waitress went over to the table and asked... didn't you see your wife slide off her chair and is under the table. The man replied... No - my wife just came in the door.

One of the youngest fans to be at the Clearbrook-Gonvick Bears game on Saturday night was Oliver, son of Jeff and Krysten Westrum.
