What is influenza (flu)?

Influenza (flu) is a respiratory disease caused by a virus that attacks the nose, throat, and lungs.

Illness is usually mild or moderate, not requiring hospitalization. However, at times flu can be severe, even leading to death. It is not the same as the “stomach flu.”

What are the symptoms of flu?

Flu symptoms include fever, dry cough, sore throat, headache, extreme tiredness, and body aches. These symptoms usually begin suddenly and might be severe enough to stop your daily activities.

How is the flu different from a cold?

A cold generally stays in the head while the flu brings body aches, fever, and extreme fatigue. A child with a cold will usually keep up his or her normal activities. A child with the flu will often feel too sick to play. Also, symptoms of flu usually come on very suddenly – a child will be okay one hour and ill the next hour.

HEART VALVE DISEASE (HVD) CAN BE SERIOUS AND DEADLY

...5 MILLION PEOPLE IN THE UNITED STATES ARE ESTIMATED TO HAVE HVD¹

...ONE IN EIGHT PEOPLE AGE 75+ ARE ESTIMATED TO HAVE MODERATE TO SEVERE HVD²

...22,000 AMERICANS DIE FROM HVD EVERY YEAR³

children? Unfortunately, we see complications of flu and flu-related deaths every year—including deaths and serious illness in children. Serious complications of flu occur most often in the elderly, in people with chronic health conditions, and in children under 5 years of age.

Which children should get flu vaccine?

Flu vaccine is recommended for everyone 6 months of age and older.

It is especially important for:

- Children 6 months to 5 years old
- All children with chronic diseases including:
 - Heart disease
 - Pulmonary disease, including asthma
 - Metabolic disease (diabetes)
- A weakened immune system
- Blood disorders
- Long-term aspirin therapy
- Neurological conditions (including epilepsy, cerebral palsy and disorders of the spinal cord or brain)

Use fluoride toothpaste.

- For children younger than age 6, watch them brush their teeth. Make sure they use only a pea-sized amount of toothpaste and always spit it out rather than swallow it.
- For children younger than age 2, do not use fluoride toothpaste unless your doctor or dentist tells you to.
- Learn more about fluoride toothpaste and other sources of fluoride at Brush Up on Healthy Teeth.

What other things can be done to keep flu from spreading?

- Stay at home if you have flu-like symptoms.
- Encourage parents to keep children at home if they have any symptoms of flu.
- Avoid exposing yourself to others who are sick with a flu-like illness.
- Cover your nose and mouth with a tissue whenever you cough or sneeze. And then throw the tissue away.
- Cough or sneeze into your sleeve if you don't have a tissue.
- Clean hands frequently with soap and water or with an alcohol-based, waterless hand sanitizer.
- Avoid sharing anything that goes into the mouth such as drinking cups and straws.

On this cold (brrr) day, it is good to be indoors and sitting in an easy chair with a book. My thermometer showed 25 below when I got out of bed.

Last night was a big night in Oklee. The Oklee Volunteer Firemen's Blizzard Bonanza took place at the Community Center. They had a delicious walleye dinner. I did not stay too long, only long enough to listed to the entertainer and visit with a few people. I took my meal home and enjoyed every bite of it. I always enjoy taking part in this event and show I do appreciate what these firemen do. What would we do if we didn't have them. Thanks to everyone of you for being a volunteer firemen.

I'm not sure if the Groundhog saw his shadow, but I do think spring is not going to arrive this week. However, I'm glad January is over and the days are getting longer.

Last Tuesday we had a very big wind which blew dirt from the fields. It left dirt over all the white snow. It was a mess with everyone's shoes dragging in wet dirt. The Post Office floor was almost black and the hallway to the Cafe had lots of dirt on it. It wouldn't have been too bad if we knew spring had arrived.

Words of Wisdom

To be taken seriously, dress the part.

Every great accomplishment began with someone announcing, "Let's try."

Joke Time

A preacher's new car broke down just after his Sunday Service. Monday morning he managed to drive the vehicle to the town's one garage for repairs.

"I hope you'll go easy on the cost," he told the mechanic. "After all, I'm just a poor preacher."

"I know," came the reply. "I heard you preach yesterday."

On Friday, of the previous week, Alice Jobe visited Jean Carpenter at Greenleaf Apts. Her daughter Cindy Thomas of Manhattan, Kansas was there and visited for a week and also that day Judy Kelley visited.

Jean's daughter Melody, from Idaho Falls, Idaho had also been there for a few weeks.

On Friday night, Anne Traxler, Wavell Sorenson, Anna DeHate and Alice Jobe went to the Fish Fry at St. Bernards in Thief River Falls. It was so delicious!

My sympathy to Chuck Simpson and his family and the Greenwald siblings on the death of Jolayne Simpson, on January 20th.

Wednesday night, at the Legion, Teresa Haugen and sister-in-law, Claudia celebrated their birthdays. Claudia was 60 on Tuesday, Teresa was 48 on Wednesday. Marlene Haugen, there sister-in-law treated everyone at bingo to cookies for their birthday celebration.

The weather has been brutally cold, the last several days. However, on Sunday it got up to 6 degrees above and I went skiing. I was out about fifteen minutes. But now that it's February, maybe there will be a warm up soon.

The flu is in the news a lot. H3N2 strain is the flu people 65 and older are getting. Schools closed in eastern U.S. and maybe other places. It is scary. The kind babies and kids get is a bad one also, because they have even died from it. If I'm not mistaken, I believe it was in 1918 when the flu epidemic killed so many people.

Wednesday morning between 6 and 7 was the Super Blue Bloody Moon eclipse. It was a Lunar Trifecta. I saw when the earth passed over the sun. It sure didn't take long. But I never saw anything afterwards. Others who saw it, saw reds, yellows, but I did see good views of it on TV. It sure was spectacular. The first in 152 years. Those on the west coast may have seen it the best. It was strange for me because it seemed like the moon disappeared. The sky was clear. Where did it go?

Next, important topic is the Super Bowl. "The Voice" coaches have a special commercial with a horse, cows and a scene on a front porch, very country like. It was a cute idea. The Bud Light commercial looked pretty good too. Those ads are so expensive, it's unreal!

A 66 year old bus driver out East was given a Super Bowl ticket from the kids parents, I think for a gift. He was so excited about coming. I'm not sure which team he was for.

Stay warm!

The Minnesota Department of Agriculture is now accepting applications for the 2018 Hemp Pilot Program season

There is no deadline to file an application this year.

In 2015, the Minnesota Industrial Hemp Development Act became law, allowing MDA to create an industrial hemp research pilot program in order to study the growth, cultivation and marketing of industrial hemp. The law directed the commissioner of agriculture to make program rules, determine a fee structure, and perform testing and other regulatory activities.

In 2016, there were six pilot participants in Minnesota who grew industrial hemp in MDA's pilot program. It was a historic year, as state growers saw the harvest of approximately 40 acres of hemp in Minnesota for the first time since the 1950s.

In 2017, there were 38 registered pilot participants who grew a total of 1,205 acres.

To learn more about growing industrial hemp in Minnesota, visit MDA's frequently asked questions page
